

MedImmune Medical Education Grants Office Independent Medical Education Grants for Healthcare Professionals

MedImmune is committed to advancing science to develop better medicines that help people live healthier, longer and more satisfying lives. As such, MedImmune recognizes the important role of corporate grant giving in support of educational and charitable activities that ultimately improve patient healthcare and further understanding of disease states and treatment options within the community. MedImmune provides financial support for programs that focus on improvements or quality in healthcare and education on a full range of treatment options. MedImmune does not support programs that promote a particular medicine.

MedImmune supports independent medical education in different learning venues, including but not limited to, live events (large national meetings, as well as locally focused events), teleconference/webcasts, audio conferences, and enduring materials available online, in print, on DVD or CD.

Overview of Grant Submission and Review Process

- Grant requestors will need to submit medical education grant applications via our online application process at www.medimmune.com/culture_grants
- Submit your request at least six weeks prior to your program date or event. Grants submitted after the six week deadline will be automatically rejected
- After the online application is completed, a confirmation screenshot will appear containing a Grant ID number for your request
- In most cases, you will be notified via email within six weeks as to our decision to fund or not to fund your request
- Our Grant Review Team will review your application against predetermined criteria that are consistent with MedImmune's policies and current regulatory requirements.
- For approved grants, the requestor will be required to sign a Letter of Agreement (LOA) prior to the program and prior to receiving any funding.
- Once the signed LOA is received by the Grants Office, funds will be processed and sent to the requesting institution or medical education provider.
